

Diy Cat Planters

Step Into Second Grade

May 1, 2018

The children did a wonderful job in their play! I was very proud of them and many people have been commenting on what a great time they had watching them perform.

It's time for snacks again, please. :)

This week I've included photos of some of the products we will be selling at our classroom store for other students to shop. We end the year with economics and learn about producers, consumers, materials, products, cost/benefit decision making, saving and spending.

*If you have a few hours to help out during our school day helping us create our products, please email me. Even if it's just for an hour here and there. Please email: jodi.simpson@deltaschools.com
